WINEMAKER NOTES:

To make the best wine for your table, there is a time-honored tradition of blending in Dry Creek Valley. It starts in the vineyard, with field blends of Zinfandel, Carignane, Petite Sirah and other varieties. And it continues in the winery, blending different vineyards to produce a wine with classic Dry Creek Valley character. Gino's Zinfandel represents a traditional field blend that my grandfather, Gino, made each year.

DRY CREEK VALLEY AVA

CALIFORNIA'S SWEET SPOT FOR ZINFANDEL

First Zinfandel planted in 1869 | 2,400 acres Zinfandel in Dry Creek AVA
Densest Concentration of old vine Zinfandel in California

Gino's

Dry Creek Valley
5 Acres planted in 1957
Estate Grown | Field Blend

Located in the cooler, southern end of Dry Creek Valley, it's the place I played as a child, and where my son, Adam, was first introduced to viticulture.

Italo's

Alexander Valley
8 Acres planted in 1934
Field Blend

Planted by my father, Gino and Uncle Italo just after prohibition. Today, my cousins farm the vineyard, and I'm honored to crush the grapes.

La Promessa

Dry Creek Valley
7 Acres planted in 1999
Estate Grown

Located next to our winery on a rocky, southwest-facing slope, this vineyard is 'The Promise' that I made to my father to continue our family's winemaking tradition in Dry Creek Valley.
